Science4Life Venture Cup

Lansdowne & Company supported the Science4Life Venture Cup with its team of experts, evaluating several business plans of young entrepreneurs and start-up companies.

The founders' initiative Science4Life supports new enterprises on their pass to independency. It's the largest German industry-specific initiative to provide free advice, support and training for businesses founded in the fields of life science, chemistry and energy. Once a year the Science4Life Venture Cup invites entrepreneurs from all over Germany to transform their innovative business ideas into corporate success.
